

A GIRL AND HER DOZER

Inside – the harrowing adventures behind the drill!

Prologue

Great treasures are scattered around the world: Jade masks resting in ancient tombs. Chests of gold coins sitting at the bottom of the sea. Glittering jewels secreted away deep in jungle temples.

The Red Diamond is one of those epic treasures. Thieves and treasure hunters around the globe have spent lifetimes searching for the stone said to grant the owner any wish.

Luckily, the Red Dozers found it first. Though it's true that the Red Dozers are a gang of thieves, they have good hearts. Instead of abusing the power of the Red Diamond, they watched over it.

Before long, whispers circled around the criminal underworld that the Red Dozers had found the priceless gem. Eventually, word got out to Croog—the evil boss of the Skullkers. The Skullkers are a nefarious gang of thugs that hide behind the pretense of being a harmless corporation. Once they heard that the Red Dozers had the precious diamond, they plotted their heist for months, waiting for the perfect chance to swipe their precious treasure.
